

NO HARM DONE – BUT SOME GOOD HAS HAPPENED!

What a great result! The Café has been leased. The successful person was Cristele Vidot who is also the owner of the Wilson Promontory Motel in Foster on Main Street, and she has also recently taken over, what was Cow Cow, which I think she is going to rename Coco de Mer after the Restaurant in the Motel. However, she has decided to stay with the same name for our Café, Sandy Toes and Salty Kisses, which is probably wise, as it would mean changing all the signage which occurs in many places, including the windows which would create a mammoth job.

Beside that great piece of news, everything else pales into insignificance. I am thinking that maybe, my mentioning of the Café might have precipitated the leasing, after all, they do say that any publicity is good publicity! Speaking to Alison this morning, she was most excited about the prospect of Cristele taking over, as they wanted someone who could do all sides of the business, rather than someone who was only interested in the bakery side or the cake making. It seems that Cristele is a ball of energy and will be employing many of the locals to help in the Café.

Now, all we need is for the ‘lock-down’ to be lifted so that life can return to some sort of normality. This would also help the Café, because at the moment all they can do is “take-a-way” and not any thing in the way of a sit-down meal.

As the day they are opening, 4th September and starting at 8am, which also happens to be my birthday, so I will definitely be ordering a meal from them as a double celebration!
