

THINGS ARE ON THE MOVE

Come March 8th the Waratah Beach Life Saving Club will be launching the new home for their Marine Search and Rescue boat. Things will start to happen on that Sunday at 1pm. There will be food as well as displays of their boat with representative members of the crew on hand to discuss what it is, they do, and they will also share some of their local knowledge about our waters.

The Surf Club will also have an Inflatable Rescue Boat on show together with a crew and Patrol members. There will also be local dignitaries, representatives from Government as well as from Emergency Victoria. It all sounds like a very interesting day and will all be taking place next to the CFA shed.

On to another subject, All Things for All People is really starting to take off. Another two new people came along last week, though admittedly another two regulars were missing – one fell asleep and I don't know what happened to the other one. But hopefully there will be everybody on board this coming Thursday at 3pm if not few more?!!

Last Tuesday was the BBQ for all the groups in town and there was a great turn up, though admittedly not all groups were represented. However, those who came had a great time even though they had to bring everything with them with sweets and salads to share with everyone. Anne Kinne made a spectacular pavlova and there was quiche, chocolate cake as well as cheese and biscuits for those with a less sweet taste. All in all, a good night.
